DETAILED ACTION

Note: The claims as originally filed lacked a claim 3. These claims were renumber pursuant to 37 CFR 1.126. The pre-amendment cancelled Claim 3. Therefore, the claims have been renumbered as follows: Claims 1 and 2 are as they are in the pre-amendment. Claims 4 and 5 in the preamendment have been renumbered as Claims 3 and 4. Claim 5 is Claim 6 from the original application. Claims 7-25 in the pre-amendment have been renumbered as Claims 6-24. Claims 25-30 are originally numbered Claims 26-31 from the original application. Newly added Claims 26-31 in the pre-amendment have been renumbered as Claims 31-36. Thirty-six claims (1-36) are pending in the application. The independent claims in the application, after renumbering all claims, are 1, 12, 21, 25, 29, 31, and 35.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 22 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As to Claims 22 and 23, line 1, the dependency is to Claim 19 which is not a method claim. Perhaps the dependency should be to Claim 21.

Art Unit: 3643

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-36 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-24 of U.S. Patent No. 6,105,310. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both sets of claims are drawn to a sleeve for covering a pot with a base portion, skirt (with a detachable skirt and upper portion of the base), and a plurality of unconnected, vertical oriented, expandable folds in the base portion, or a method of using the sleeve. Limitations in the dependent claims and the limitation of a tapered shape are obvious variations to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3643

Claims 1, 7, 8-10, 21, 23, 24, 25, 27, and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ottenwalder et al. (5,117,584).

As to Claims 1, 7, and 10, Ottenwalder et al. disclose a preformed sleeve for covering a pot (Figs. 1 and 2) having an upper end, lower end, and outer peripheral surface comprising a base portion having an upper end (Examiner's upper end of Fig. 1) and lower end (Examiner's lower end of Fig. 1) having a bottom (21), the base portion initially having a flat condition prior to being opened (Fig. 2); a skirt portion (Examiner's skirt of Fig. 1) extending from the upper end of the base; and a plurality of unconnected, vertically oriented, accordion-like, expandable folds in the base (3) (continuous between the base and the skirt) wherein when a pot is in the sleeve the folds expand so that the base substantially covers and surrounds the outer peripheral surface of the pot.

As to Claim 8, Ottenwalder et al. further disclose a portion serving as a handle (defined as any part of skirt of Fig. 1).

As to Claim 9, Ottenwalder et al. further disclose a drainage hole (defined as region between lower portion of sleeve and base in Fig. 1).

As to Claims 21 and 24, the sleeve with a base portion, skirt, and vertically oriented, expanded folds is disclosed as described in Claim 1 above. The sleeve of Claim 1 inherently performs the method steps of Claim 21 when used for its intended purpose.

As to Claim 23, the sleeve with folds continuous between the base and skirt are disclosed as described in Claim 10 above. The sleeve of Claim 23 inherently performs the method steps of Claim 11 when used for its intended purpose.

As to Claim 25 and 27, Ottenwalder et al. disclose a preformed sleeve for covering a pot (Figs. 1 and 2) having an upper end, lower end, and outer peripheral surface comprising a base portion having an upper end (Examiner's upper end of Fig. 1) and lower end (Examiner's lower end of Fig. 1) having a bottom (21), an interior space when opened, the base portion initially having a flat condition prior to being opened (Fig. 2); and a plurality of unconnected, vertically oriented, accordion-like, expandable folds in the base (3) (continuous between the base and the skirt) wherein when a pot is in the sleeve the folds expand to substantially cover and surround the outer peripheral surface of the pot.

As to Claim 29, the sleeve with a base portion with an initial flat condition, skirt, and a plurality of vertically oriented, expanded folds is disclosed as described in Claim 25 above. The sleeve of Claim 25 inherently performs the method steps of Claim 29 when used for its intended purpose.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ottenwalder et al. (5,117,584).

Art Unit: 3643

As to Claims 3-5, the limitations of Claim 1 are disclosed as described above. Not disclosed is the sleeve constructed from a material having a thickness from 0.1 to 30 mils. The examiner takes official notice that it is old and well known in the art to make sleeves for plants or pots from material with a thickness of from 0.1 to 30 mils. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the sleeve of Ottenwalder et al. by making a thickness of from 0.1 to 30 mils so as to conserve material.

As to Claim 6, the limitations of Claim 1 are disclosed as described above. Not disclosed is the sleeve material made of polymer film. The examiner takes official notice that it is old and well known in the art to make sleeves for plants or pots from polymer film. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the sleeve of Ottenwalder et al. by making the sleeve of polymer film depending upon cost of starting materials.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 11, 26, 28, and 30 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 12-20 and 31-36 are allowed over the prior art of record.

Claim 22 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3643

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Weder ('657 B1) disclose in the prior art a sleeve with vertical folds.
